North Carolina County Superin tendents Gather in Raleigh.

ELABORATE WEDDING

Mr. Jones Fuller Marries Miss Mattie Elisa Pace of Raleigh.

(Special to the Times-Dispatch.)
RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 11.—The State Association of County Superintendents of Public Schools convened in second annual session in Representatives' Hall of the State Capitol this morning, State Superintendent J. Y. Joyner presiding. Ninety of the ninety-seven county superintendents are present. State Superintendent Joyner delivered an able and comprehen-sive address, in which he congratulated the superintendents on the progress the cause of education has made during the cause of education has made during the past year, and urged yet greater effor especially along the limit especially along the line of consolidation of school districts, the voting of local taxes for school improvement and the establishment of rural school libraries,

Features of the afternoon session were the discussion of how local taxation was secured for every district except one in Dare county, Superintendent B. G. Crisp: "What the County Superintendents Can Do to Secure Consolidation and Local Taxation." by Superintendents. To Al Can Do to Secure Consolidation and Local Taxation," by Superintendents T. A. Sharp, of Guilford, and W. S. Long, of Alamance; "Discussion of Teachers Institute Work," by Y. D. Moore, of Caldedi, and others. President Charles D. McIver, of the State Normal and Industrial College, spoke at length on the "Southern Educational Board and the Campaign for Education "

Some notable features of the session to were "Visitation of Schools and How to Make it Most Helpful," by ex-How to Make it Most Helpful, by ex-state Superintendent C. H. Mebane, of Catawba; "A Paper On the Life and Char-acter of Calvin, H. Wiley," by Professor R. D. W. Connor, of Wilmington. The convention will be in session for three days.

State Superintendent J. Y. Joyner's address was a lengthy and valuable docu-ment, showing healthy and hopeful pro-gress in consolidation of districts, local taxation, building and improving schoolhouses, and in every department of pub-lic school work. It shows eighty-eigh new local tax districts, making 174 in lic school work. It shows eighty-eight new local tax districts, making 174 in sixty-five countles—Dare first, with eighteen, and Guilford second, with seventeen. The decrease in the number of school districts this year has been 578, the decrease in two years being 657. In two years 678 new schoolhouses, for 1903, $1.000,503, an increase of $476.493 for the past year. Of the public schools' loan fund, $38,511 has been loaned out to sixty counties, for 177 districts, securing $173,470 additional school property. There is still $46,589 of this fund immediately available and another $100,000 in the form of State bonds available in three years.

The report shows 60,000 volumes in 600 rural libraries. Salarles of white teachers have increased $1.58 and negroes forty-four cents per month the past year.

Among features of work to be done, superintendent Joyner urged further consolidation of districts, building of better loanes. It large number of districts still

CORPORATION COMMISSION.
The North Carolina Corporation Commission announce that they will go to Greensbore to-morrow to hold an investigation in the case of Greensbore Ice and Coal Company vs. Southern Railway, in which the Ice and Coal Company seeks to compel the railroad company to place cars loaded for them on their private siding, instead of on the public sidings of the Southern. The commission has already the Southern. The commission has already siding, instead of on the public sidings of the Southern. The commission has already ordered the railroad to place the cars on the private siding, and exceptions to this order are to be heard to-morrow. The refusal on the part of the Southern is on account of the failure of the Ice and Coal Company to pay a considerable areages in freights.

Another brother to be present is the oldest member of the family, Dr. Robert W. Joyner, one of the leading physicians of Northampton county.

Andrew Joyner, the sixth son, is too well known here to need any description. One of the most sacred features of this family reunion near the old country homestead, in which this family was reared, and from which they have scattered to all points of the compass, is, that during the mission a church, built to the memory of their parents, having had all the indebtedness paid off, will be consecrated by the bishop. These parents were members of the Episcopai Church in a community that had little patience in their day, with its ritual and forms, and now there is a flourishing congregation of Episcopalians, the result largely of the work of these devoted Christians fifty years ago.

Of the sisters living, Mrs. Hattie Phelps, wife of Rev. H. H. Phelps, an Episcopal minister at Lenoir, spent last night here with her brother and left for Farmyille this morning. The other sister is Miss Lucy Joyner, who is the superintendent of a large church school near Washington.

BALKBURY, N. C., Nev. ii.—The all absorbing topic is this eity is the present status of the prohibition election ardered for to-merrow. Business has been largely suspended and many lensing man are giving their time to campaign were on either the wat or dry side. Excitement has reached apparently its alghest point.

Attorneys for both the whisky element and the Anti-Scioon Lasgue went to Mateville yesterday and appeared before Judge Alien. The league asked for a restraining order against holding the election until a new registration is held according to the law governing such elections, but the application was refused. Lest ingin autorneys F. & Cariten and G. W. Garland appeared before the Sallabury Board of Alderman in the interest of a change of the date for the election, and they declined to grant the request of the petitioners.

Mayor Boyden sisted that the whole matter 46 in a muddle and that there is evidently a condict between the fate laws governing such elections and the code of Sallabury.
